

Mirror Mirror

Mirror Mirror on the wall where the hell is my...

Inspired by our trusty peg boards in the studio where we hang our tools at the end of the day. Why not have one at home for jewellery in the bedroom or that last minute check near the front door?

Of course it smarter than all that, we harness the magic of magnets and some clever keyhole mounts, install me once and I will never be askew.

Made from, you guessed it, sustainably grown Tasmanian oak and finished with a Scandinavian oil. It's magnets are softened by felt and held nicely in off cuts of American red oak.
